What does the Girl Scout cookie program do for my girl?

When your girl sells Girl Scout Cookies – she is learning new and amazing experiences! When a girl participates in the largest girl-led entrepreneurial program in the world, she is developing skills that will last her a lifetime! Running her own cookie business will help her understand and explore five basic skills.

What Can a Cookie Do?

After paying the baker for the cookies, 100% of the proceeds from the Cookie Program stay local!

Goal Setting
Setting cookie goals and making a plan to reach them

Decision-Making
Choosing how her troop will spend their cookie proceeds

People Skills
Talking to new people and listening to customers while selling cookies

Business Ethics
Girl Scouts need to be honest and responsible every step of the way

Money-Management
Making a budget, taking orders and handling money from her business

Digital Cookie:

What is Digital Cookie?

Digital Cookie is a program developed by GSUSA in conjunction with Little Brownie Bakers which allows girls to accept payment via a debit/credit card for cookies.

Customers can pay for cookies online and have the option for the cookies to be shipped directly to them (shipping charges apply), delivered by the Girl Scout, or donated with no additional shipping fees. Use the app while selling door-to-door and at booths for a quick and easy process right on your phone!

Getting Started:

Parents of registered Girl Scouts will receive an email to register for Digital Cookie.

Watch for your registration email from email@girlscouts.org with the subject "Register for the Digital Cookie Platform today"
