GIRL SCOUTS FUN FACT

In 1914, Girl Scout uniforms began to be manufactured. Juliette Gordon Low ordered a stock of blue uniforms, with khaki to be sent only by special request. But the girls preferred khaki—they were developing an interest in outdoor activities and considered it more practical for hiking, picnicking, and camping.

An advertisement for the Trailblazer TV app. It features a green background. On the left is a white smartphone displaying the app's interface, which includes a logo with a girl hiking and the text "Trailblazer TV" and "Powered by GSNC of North-Central Alabama". To the right of the phone, the text "DOWNLOAD OUR APP" is at the top. Below that, a purple box says "Available on Roku Players". Further down are two buttons: "Download on the App Store" with the Apple logo and "GET IT ON Google Play" with the Google Play logo. To the right of these buttons is a QR code. At the bottom left is the "girlscouts of north-central alabama" logo, and at the bottom right is the website "trailblazertv.org".
