

THE LEGEND OF COTTAQUILLA

Long ago the Indian chief Cottaquilla crossed the hills into the quiet peaceful valley. This land was once the land of the Creeks. Chief Cottaquilla's daughter, Walahoa had fallen in love with a Creek named Onatonda. So Cottaquilla came here to prevent the marriage. This action by her father caused Walahoa to be very unhappy. Even though he came here in anger, Cottaquilla found the valley surrounded by majestic hills, to be very beautiful, and decided to remain here. This did not cheer up Walahoa; she cried constantly with a broken heart. Over the years a large hole was dug to be filled by the tears of the beautiful maiden, Walahoa. Cottaquilla was so distressed over his daughter, he decided he might have made the wrong decision. He consented to the marriage of Walahoa and Onatonda. The couple built a huge wigwam on the hill overlooking the lake where our lodge now stands. Walahoa and Onatonda lived happily forever in the beautiful land of Cottaquilla.

Sherwood - Established Camp Girls aged 6-8, holds 36, ple, built 1982

Four Winds - Girls 9-10 holds 28 people
Built 1982

Deep Woods Girls 10-11, holds 28 people
Built 1983

Huckleberry Ridge - Girls 11-12 holds 28 people, Built 1983

Havens - Tent unit older girls 27 beds, Light by Kerogene lantern

Octagon - Water front home, 4 beds shower + rest room

Docks - swimming
AREA

Niagara - Shower House + Restrooms

Stanley - Shower House + Restrooms equipment Room, sleeping room with bunk beds for 30 people, basket ball goal

ONATONDA - Office, Infirmary, Troop Room, Arts & Crafts, Kitchen Dining area, Directors Quarters Trading Post, Game Closet, Large Activity Rooms

Boat House - Row Boats, Canoes, Pkayac, paddles, life jackets

Fire circle - all camp fire
area

Unit shelter - meeting area for each unit, Tables, Fire circle, unit board walls.

Badlands - primitive area, good place for sunset watching

Bambi's Meadow - area for running games, team sports + archery

